

Tom Price

Comedian and Writer

Tom Price is a comedian and writer who has appeared on tv and radio across the BBC and beyond. He started in telly with his own dating show on MTV, Senseless, which featured prospective lovers meeting in a pitch black room. Despite this beginning, he has managed to go on and carve out a successful presenting career with credits including Live 8, BBC 3's Destination 3, BBC One's Inside Out and BBC 2's The Premier League Show. As a stand-up he has done numerous Edinburghs, and supported Stephen Merchant on tour. He currently does a Breakfast show on Magic Radio, a news comedy show for BBC Wales called The Leak, and a podcast called My Mate Bought A Toaster which lovingly mocks guests' Amazon Purchase History. He also has a dog called Polly, two children, a wife, and a criminally underused set of golf clubs. He will never present a show in the dark ever again.
