Camilla is a London-based content creator, writer and mum of two. Her corner of the internet is a cosy, honest one, full of books, podcasts and culture reccomendations - shared just like a friend who's finished something brilliant and can't wait to tell you.

Alongside her picks, Camilla vlogs her days as a mum of young toddlers while fiercely protecting time for what she loves, whether that's a chapter during nap time or a Sunday hobby. Her content encourages her audience to put their phones down and spend their time on things that actually fill their cup (Yes, she does see the irony.)

Camilla is also known for writing personal essays and cultural criticism on her Substack, Doomscroll Detox, bringing the same thoughtful, wry lens to motherhood, feminism, culture and modern life.
