

Jack Carroll

Comedian, Actor and Writer

Jack Carroll is a 23 Year Old Comedian, Actor and Writer. He starred in CBBC sketch show Vic Reeves 'Ministry of Curious Stuff' aged 11, won a Pride of Britain award at 12, was runner-up on Britain's got talent aged 14 and was nominated for a National Soap Award aged 15 for his appearance in Doctors. What he did when he was 13 remains a mystery.

Since then, he's made stand-up appearances on Live at the Apollo, Frankie Boyle's New World Order, acted in 4 series of Sky 1 Sitcom Trollied and starred in feature film Eaten By Lions. As well as acting and stand up, he is a graduate of the BBC Writersroom.

Jack has also recently written and starred in a sitcom pilot for the BBC which will be released later this year.

His other attributes include Cerebral palsy, an amazing ability to write about himself in the third person, his brilliant intellect and his modesty.